1515-II TADAO

Dining table of stone
Design Dietmar Joester 2010

TADAO - a round dining table with rotatable inner plate. What makes this dining table so special is the rotatable plate which is not attached, but on the same level as the main plate. The top and the rotatable plate are manufactured from one single slab. Therefore, the veining of the stone runs across the whole top continuously, without disruption. This model is available with three different bases: center base on metal pedestal, star-shaped stone pedestal and conical support.

The legendary stone park offers 150 different types of natural stone from all over the world. The customer selects his slab and determines the cutout from which a unique DRAENERT piece of furniture is made.
