1550 KENT II

Dining table of natural stone

Design Wolfgang C.R. Mezger 2023/Product supplement 2024

We have opened up new perspectives with the introduction of the KENT dining table, which is equipped with an asymmetrical table top. The trapezoidal shape gives this striking table an additional dimension. Trapeza, a fusion of round and square elements, ensures a distinctive character. The two cast aluminum half-shells of the base are closer together, which not only guarantees high stability, but also offers more legroom. Depending on the choice of table top, the curved structure of the natural stone grain underlines the dynamism of the design.
